

PART 6.0 MANAGEMENT INFORMATION REPORTS

6.1 Management Information Requirements

The Federal government does not require States to prepare any FCR Management Information (MI) reports. States will be furnished management information from the Federal level regarding the FCR interface activity. States may use this data as they best see fit.

The Federal government is analyzing the cost benefit of FPLS/FCR information. The collection of FPLS/FCR/NDNH management information within State systems is important to the development of cost benefit information. Therefore, additional guidance on capturing MI FPLS interface data will be developed and furnished at a later date.
